REPORTING YOUR CREDIT

This on-demand seminar was originally presented as a live webcast on October 6, 2023, in Seattle, WA. If you attended the live webcast and reported CLE credits, you cannot also report credits from watching or listening to this recording if repeated within your three year reporting period.

DESCRIPTION

This program introduces practitioners broadly to AI and Human Rights and specifically examines legal ethical issues, privacy issues, how AI could respond to current human rights issues, including but not limited to hate speech. Hear different viewpoints that discuss a myriad of issues they are looking into as AI continues to develop.

AGENDA

1　　How Technology Impacts Notions of Privacy
In this session, we will explore how historical notions of privacy have evolved in response to changes in technology in the United States. We will look at relevant Supreme Court case law, U.S. policy, and emerging legal trends and technology.
Mark Potkewitz – Brooklyn Law School New York, NY

2　　Cultural Diversity, Ethics, and the Future of AI: Integrating Indigenous Perspectives
This presentation delves into the intersections of cultural diversity, ethical considerations, and artificial intelligence (AI). It examines the significance of integrating multiple viewpoints in AI development and usage, particularly emphasizing the invaluable insights from indigenous perspectives. The role of legal professionals in shaping the ethical dimensions of AI will also be explored.
Karina Kesserwan – Kesserwan Arteau, Montréal, QC, Canada

3　　Generative AI as a Gamechanger for Client Service
Generative AI is changing the way work is done, and the legal field is not immune to this disruption. This session delves into the transformative potential of generative AI tools in serving clients and expanding impact. Join us for a deep dive into practical tips, real-world examples, and actionable strategies that can position your practice to compete in this shifting market.
Natalie Knowlton – A2J Ventures, Denver, CO

AI and Human Rights: Legal Perspectives and Dilemmas
(agenda continued from previous page)

4 Ensuring Human Rights Protection in the Age of AI
What are the implications of humans losing jobs to AI and its multiplier effects on human life? That is, what are the human rights effects of loss of job due to AI innovation? This discussion will be divided into five sections: definition and different types of AI; impacts of AI in workforce; the AI workforce, and human rights implications; the prospect for protection and the dilemma of regulation; and conclusions.
Prince Amadi - Mathsman Attorneys & Solicitors, Los Angeles, CA

5 Artificial Intelligence and Legal Ethics
Lawyers and other legal professionals are increasingly using artificial intelligence (AI) in their practice, and this trend has been accelerated by the release of large language models such as Chat-GPT. This session will explain the nature and significance of recent developments in AI relevant to the legal field, and then discuss several issues of legal ethics this use of AI creates. These ethical issues include the unauthorized practice of law and ethical requirements for attorney competence, confidentiality, and oversight.
Gary Marchant - Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law, Arizona State University, Phoenix, AZ
